

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF MINNESOTA

Minnesota Voters Alliance,
Ronald Moey, Marissa Skaja, Charles R.
Halverson, Blair L. Johnson,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

City of Minneapolis,

Defendant.

Case No. _____

Complaint for Declaratory and Injunctive Relief

Jury Trial Demanded

The Plaintiffs make the following allegations for their complaint.

Introduction

Minnesota Voters Alliance and its member-plaintiffs bring this lawsuit against the City of Minneapolis because federal law preempts private federal election grants to cities. The Center for Tech and Civic Life (CTCL) has essentially created a constitutionally-impermissible public-private partnership with the City of Minneapolis to run its federal elections on November 3, 2020. CTCL has awarded a $3,000,000 private federal election grant to the City of Minneapolis.

To be sure, CTCL is free to directly spend its $3,000,000 to get out the vote in Minneapolis; but, federal election law leaves discretion to the “states,” not the cities, on how to implement federal elections:

The specific choices on the methods of complying with the requirements of this subchapter shall be left to the discretion of the State.¹

In fact, federal election law defines the word “state” to include only the 50 states and territories:

In this chapter, the term “State” includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, and the United States Virgin Islands.²

So, under federal election law, the City of Minneapolis is not a state. Not being a state, the City of Minneapolis is preempted from entering into a public-private partnership with CTCL for federal election administration by receiving CTCL’s private federal election grant.

The following federal and state law preempts the City of Minneapolis from accepting and using CTCL’s private federal election grants: U.S. Constitution’s Elections Clause and Supremacy Clause, National Voters Registration Act (NVRA), 52 U.S.C. §§ 20501-20511, Help America Vote Act, 52 USC §§ 20901-21145, Minnesota Statutes § 609.42 and Minnesota Session Laws, ch. 77 (May 12, 2020).

Because of the preemptive effects of these laws, the City of Minneapolis has acted ultra vires, without legal authority, by accepting and using CTCL’s $3,000,000 private federal election grant. The Plaintiffs are entitled to prospective declaratory and injunctive relief enjoining the City of Minneapolis from accepting and using CTCL’s private federal election grant.

Jurisdiction and Venue

1. Plaintiffs invoke this Court’s jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, authorizing federal-question jurisdiction, for voters’ Supremacy Clause claims involving federal election law preemption. The League of Women Voters v. Blackwell, 340 F.Supp.2d 823 (N.D. Ohio 2004).

2. Plaintiffs invoke this Court's jurisdiction under the private cause of action provided under HAVA, 52 U.S.C. § 21112, because the State of Minnesota has failed to provide the federally-required "appropriate remedy" of a timely, pre-election injunction for any person complaining against a Minnesota local government forming a public-private partnership for federal election administration by accepting and using private federal election grants.

3. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because the Defendant is a Minnesota municipality, with offices within the District of Minnesota, and because the events or omissions giving rise to the claims presented occurred within the District of Minnesota.

Parties

4. Minnesota Voters Alliance is a Minnesota non-profit corporation. The Minnesota Voters Alliance is an organization with members who seek to ensure, as part of their association objectives, public confidence in the integrity of Minnesota's elections, in election results and election systems, processes, procedures, and enforcement, and that public officials act in accordance with the law in exercising their obligations to the people of the State of Minnesota. The Minnesota Voters Alliance also works to protect the rights of its members whenever laws, statutes, rules, regulations, or government actions that threaten or impede implied or expressed rights or privileges afforded to them under our constitutions or laws or both. Its membership includes candidates seeking elective offices. The Minnesota Voters Alliance has many members including the individual plaintiffs.

5. Plaintiff Ronald Moey is an eligible Minnesota voter residing in the City of Minneapolis.

6. Plaintiff Marissa Skaja is an eligible Minnesota voter residing in the City of Minneapolis.

7. Plaintiff Charles R. Halverson is an eligible Minnesota voter residing in the City of Minneapolis.

8. Plaintiff Blair L. Johnson is an eligible Minnesota voter residing in the City of Minneapolis.

9. Defendant City of Minneapolis is a Minnesota municipality. The City of Minneapolis is not recognized as a “state” in federal law.

Standing

10. The Supremacy Clause confers a private cause of action and legal standing on voters in federal elections to sue state and local governments based on election policies and customs which violate federal election law. The League of Women Voters v. Blackwell, 340 F.Supp.2d 823 (N.D. Ohio 2004).

11. HAVA, 52 U.S.C. § 21112, confers a private cause of action and legal standing on plaintiffs because they fit in the statutory category of “any person who believes that there is a violation of any provision of subchapter III (including a violation which has occurred, is occurring, or is about to occur).”

12. As to plaintiffs’ prospective remedies sought in this Court, HAVA, 52 U.S.C. § 21112, titled “Establishment of State-based administrative complaint procedures to remedy grievances” guarantees an “appropriate remedy” to “any person who believes that there is a violation of any provision of subchapter III (including a violation which has occurred, is occurring, or is about to occur)” of HAVA.

13. Under section (a) of 52 U.S.C. § 21112, Minnesota, having received federal HAVA payments, is “required to establish and maintain State-based administrative complaint procedures which meet the requirements of paragraph (2).” Paragraph (2), among other things, requires that Minnesota provide that:

(F) If, under the procedures, the State determines that there is a violation of any provision of subchapter III, the State shall provide the appropriate remedy.

(Emphasis added.)

14. However, in this case, Minnesota Statutes § 200.04 has failed to provide the federally-required “appropriate remedy” to “any person who believes that there is... [a HAVA] violation which has occurred, is occurring, or is about to occur” because there is effectively no pre-election injunctive relief allowed under Minnesota Statutes § 200.04.

15. Minnesota Statutes § 200.04 is the proverbial “slow boat to China” and does not provide the immediate injunctive relief required to stop the City of Minneapolis from accepting and using CTCL’s private federal election grants before the November 3, 2020 election.

16. Minnesota Statutes § 200.04 authorizes no one, not even the Minnesota Attorney General, to pursue injunctive relief for HAVA violations against Minnesota’s local governments.

17. Minnesota Statutes § 200.04 is legally insufficient to satisfy the federal “appropriate remedy” requirement for “any person” filing a HAVA complaint in Minnesota to obtain pre-election injunctive relief.

18. Because Minnesota Statutes § 200.04 does not provide the federally-required appropriate remedy under 52 U.S. Code § 21112, plaintiffs have a private cause of action and legal standing under 52 U.S.C. § 21112 to pursue prospective declaratory and injunctive relief in federal court.

19. An actual controversy exists between the parties, Minnesota Voters Alliance and the individual plaintiffs who have suffered an injury-in-fact that is directly traceable to the defendants. 28 U.S.C. § 2201.

20. The plaintiffs are injured by CTCL’s private federal elections grants to the City of Minneapolis, totaling $3,000,000, in violation of federal law which ensure legally-authorized, uniform and fair federal elections.

21. CTCL’s private federal election grants to the Minnesota cities tortiously interfere with plaintiffs’ legal rights in the City of Minneapolis under federal law to legally-authorized, uniform and fair federal elections. See The League of Women Voters v. Blackwell, 340 F.Supp.2d 823 (N.D. Ohio 2004).

22. The injury to the plaintiffs is real and concrete.

23. This Court’s favorable decision will redress the plaintiffs’ injuries and allow them to enjoy their rights in the City of Minneapolis to legally-authorized, uniform and fair federal elections guaranteed under federal law.

42. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “Why is CTCL providing grants to election offices?”:

Election officials have made it clear that one of their most pressing needs is funding. Based on this, CTCL is focusing philanthropic support to directly help election offices administer safe and secure elections in November.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>. See also Exhibit A.

43. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “Who is providing the grant?”:

CTCL is a publicly supported 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. CTCL is proud to have a healthy mix of financial support from foundations, individual donors, and through earned revenue. See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>. See also Exhibit A.

44. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “What kind of election expenses do the grant funds cover?”:

Election offices can use the funds to cover certain 2020 expenses incurred between June 15, 2020 and December 31, 2020. These include, but are not limited to, the costs associated with the safe administration of the following examples of election responsibilities.

A.

45. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “How do I know that my office is eligible to receive a grant?”:

If your U.S. election office is responsible for administering election activities covered by the grant, you’re eligible to apply for grant funds.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

46. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “How much money is my office eligible to apply for?”:

Your election office will be eligible to apply for a grant amount based on a formula that considers the citizen voting age population and other demographic data of your jurisdiction. Minimum grants will be $5,000. You may choose to receive less than the offered amount if your needs or eligible expenses do not reach that amount.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

47. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “What if I share election responsibilities with another local government office?”:

If you share election responsibilities with another local government office, you are encouraged to submit one combined application for grant funds. This means you’ll coordinate with your other local government offices.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

48. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “What information does my office need to provide in the grant application?”:

You will need to provide the following information in your grant application:

- Number of active registered voters in the election office jurisdiction as of September 1, 2020
- Number of full-time staff (or equivalent) on the election team as of September 1, 2020
- Election office 2020 budget as of September 1, 2020
- Election office W-9
- Local government body who needs to approve the grant funding (if any)
- What government official or government agency the grant agreement should be addressed to

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

49. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “Who should submit the application for my election office?”:

Your election office’s point of contact for the grant should submit the grant application. We leave it to you to determine who should be the point of contact.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

50. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “When can I submit my application?”:

You’ll be able to submit your grant application beginning the week of Tuesday, September 8, 2020.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

51. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “When will my office receive the grant?”:

We recognize that election jurisdictions need funding as soon as possible to cover the unprecedented expenses of 2020 elections. We plan to move quickly! After you submit your application, CTCL anticipates that the certification and approval of your grant will take about 2 weeks. The disbursement timeline will depend on your local approval process.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

52. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “Will the grant be mailed via check or transferred via wire?”:

Wiring the grant funds is faster, but you can receive the funds via a mailed check if preferred.

See <https://www.techandciviclifef.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

53. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “What reporting is required?”:

You will be required to submit a report that indicates how you spent the grant funds. The report will be in a format that should not be overly burdensome.

See <https://www.techandciviclelife.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

54. CTCL, on its website, answers the question “When do I report how my office spent the funds?”:

You’ll need to submit your grant report by January 31, 2021.

See <https://www.techandciviclelife.org/our-work/election-officials/grants/>.

CTCL’s private federal election grants are targeted toward counties and cities with demographics that show overwhelmingly progressive voters.

55. The local governments that CTCL have funded have demographics with overwhelmingly progressive voters. For example, Wayne County, Michigan, voted in 2016 for Hillary Clinton at 94.95% rate over Donald Trump. As the chart below shows, CTCL’s private federal election grants are targeting cities with high rates of progressive voters.

| Jurisdiction/City | Grant Amount (in dollars) | Trump 2016 | Clinton 2016 | Clinton Percentage |
|-----------------------------|---------------------------|------------|--------------|--------------------|
| Green Bay City, WI | 1,093,400 | 19,821 | 21,291 | 70.88% |
| Kenosha City, WI | 862,779 | 15,829 | 22,849 | 58.98% |
| Madison City, WI | 1,271,788 | 23,053 | 120,078 | 83.89% |

56. Minneapolis voted in 2016 for Hillary Clinton at an 87.17% rate over Donald Trump.

CTCL's 2020 private federal election grants

57. In 2020, CTCL has provided private federal election grants to cities and counties in at least Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan, South Carolina and Georgia.

58. All these states have something in common: state legislatures who will not accept CTCL's private federal elections grants.

59. So, CTCL, to accomplish its objective of turning out progressive votes in the urban cities, has circumvented these state legislatures by recruiting local governments to apply and agree to accept CTCL's private federal election grants.

60. CTCL's private federal election grants to counties and cities in Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan, South Carolina and Georgia were not approved by Congress nor by the respective state legislatures.

61. For example, CTCL recently provided a $10 million private federal election grant to the City of Philadelphia. The $10 million is to apportioned as follows:

1. $5.5 million towards materials and processing equipment for mail-in and absentee voting
2. $2.27 million towards satellite election offices for in-person mail-in voting
3. $1.32 million towards in-person voting at polling places on election day
4. $552,000 for secure dropboxes and other needs
5. $370,000 for printing, postage, and other needs

62. CTCL's private federal election grant to Philadelphia was not approved by Congress nor by the Pennsylvania state legislature.

63. Similarly, recently, CTCL awarded its $3,000,000 private federal election grant to the City of Minneapolis.

64. CTCL's private federal election grant to Minneapolis was not approved by Congress nor by the Minnesota state legislature.

CTCL's private federal election grants are to increase voter participation in the City of Minneapolis which can be accomplished without creation of a public-private partnership regarding Minneapolis's election administration.

65. CTCL's private federal election grants are to increase voter participation in the City of Minneapolis.

66. CTCL's goal of increasing voter participation in the City of Minneapolis can be accomplished without the funding through the City of Minneapolis.

67. Instead, CTCL could spend the funds directly on get-out-to-vote (GOTV) efforts like other non-profits do.

68. Therefore, for CTCL to accomplish its goal of increasing voter participation in the City of Minneapolis, it is unnecessary for there to be a public-private partnership between CTCL and the City of Minneapolis regarding Minneapolis's election administration.

COUNT I

The City of Minneapolis acts ultra vires, without legal authority, to form a public-private partnership for federal election administration with CTCL by accepting and using CTCL's private federal election grant, because preemption applies under the Elections Clause, Supremacy Clause, HAVA, and NVRA.

69. The Plaintiffs incorporate this complaint's previous paragraphs.

70. The City of Minneapolis acts ultra vires, without legal authority, to form a public-private partnership for federal election administration with CTCL by accepting and using CTCL's private federal election grant, because preemption applies under the Elections Clause, Supremacy Clause, HAVA, and NVRA.

71. The Center for Tech and Civic Life (CTCL) has distributed or is about to distribute a private federal election grants, totaling $3,000,000, to the City of Minneapolis.

72. But, HAVA left discretion to the "states," not the cities, on how to implement federal elections:

The specific choices on the methods of complying with the requirements of this subchapter shall be left to the discretion of the State.³

73. Federal election law defines the word "state":

In this chapter, the term "State" includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, and the United States Virgin Islands.⁴

74. So, under federal election law, the City of Minneapolis is not a "state."

75. Accordingly, the City of Minneapolis has no legal authority to form public-private partnerships for federal election administration nor to accept and use private federal election grants.

76. The following federal law and state law preempt the Minnesota cities from accepting and using private federal election grants: U.S. Constitution's Elections Clause and Supremacy Clause, National Voters Registration Act (NVRA), 52 U.S.C. §§ 20501-20511, Help America Vote Act, 52 USC §§ 20901-21145, and Minnesota Statutes § 609.42

³ 52 U.S. Code § 21085, Pub. L. 107-252, title III, § 305 (Oct. 29, 2002), 116 Stat. 1714.

⁴ 52 USC § 21141.

77. Because of the preemptive effects of these laws, the City of Minneapolis acts ultra vires, without legal authority, to accept and use CTCL's private federal election grants and to create the public-private partnership with CTCL.

78. The Plaintiffs are entitled to prospective declaratory and injunctive relief.

79. Specifically, the following laws preempt the City of Minneapolis's actions of approving and using CTCL's private federal election grants.

U.S. Constitution's Elections Clause and Supremacy Clause

80. The U.S. Constitution, Article I's Elections Clause and Article VI's Supremacy Clause preempts CTCL's private federal elections grants to local governments.

81. The Elections Clause states:

Time, place, and manner of holding. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing [sic] Senators.

U.S. Constitution, Art. I, section 4, clause 1.

82. The Supremacy Clause states:

This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

U.S. Constitution, Art. VI, para. 2.

83. The Elections Clause, as applied here, ensures that the federal government and state legislatures determine the time, place and manner of federal elections—not CTCL and local governments.

84. The Supremacy Clause, as applied here, ensures that local governments do not act contrary to federal and state law regarding federal elections.

85. The Elections Clause and Supremacy Clause preempt CTCL's private federal election grants to local governments.

86. CTCL's private federal election grants are not legally authorized by federal law nor state law.

87. The City of Minneapolis has acted ultra vires, without legal authority, in accepting and using CTCL's private federal election grants and forming the public-private partnership with CTCL for federal election administration.

The City of Minneapolis's $3,000,000 CTCL private federal elections grant is a constitutionally-impermissible public-private partnership.

88. A government violates election law "if it skews the outcome of an election by encouraging and facilitating voting by favored demographic groups."⁵

89. The City of Minneapolis's $3,000,000 CTCL private federal elections grant constitutes a constitutionally-impermissible public-private partnership.

90. The case law shows that Minneapolis's $3,000,000 CTCL private federal election grant is in a subject area, federal election administration, where public-private partnerships are constitutionally impermissible.

91. The federal courts have a tradition in different subject areas of drawing a line where public-private partnerships are constitutionally impermissible. Federal elections are a subject where the federals should hold that private-public partnerships are constitutionally impermissible.

92. As a preliminary matter, Young v. Red Clay Consol. Sch. Dist., 122 A.3d 784, 858 (Del. Ch. 2015) reveals the dangers of a government scheme to target get-out-to-vote efforts on a favored demographic group. The school district wanted its referendum to pass; so, it targeted parents of school children and adult students for a get-out-to-vote campaign. In the Young decision, the court identified the school district's scheme to get-out-the-vote of the parents and adult students as also violating election law. The court held that the school district's improper influence upon a demographic group interfered with the "full, fair, and free expression of the popular will..." Id. The court stated that the government favoring a demographic group was equivalent to the government disfavoring a demographic group:

Historically, the law has focused on forms of "improper influence" that have interfered with the voting rights of disfavored demographic groups by dissuading or preventing them from voting through blatant means like fraud, violence, and intimidation. A government certainly violates the Elections Clause if it skews the outcome of an election in this manner. Parity of reasoning suggests that a government can violate the Elections Clause if it skews the outcome of an election by encouraging and facilitating voting by favored demographic groups. In both situations, the government has diminished the voting rights of one portion of the electorate and enhanced the voting rights of another portion of the electorate. In neither case is the election "free and equal."

93. In Board of Education of Kiryas Joel Village School District v. Grumet, 512 U.S. 687 (1994), the U.S. Supreme Court drew such a line finding a public-private partnership constitutionally impermissible. In Kiryas, the New York legislature sought to create a homogenous school district for Satmar Hasidic Jews and did so by statute. This "religious" motive was improper for the state and the statute forming the new district was stuck down. Id. at 691.

94. Similarly, in Ferguson v. City of Charleston, 532 U.S. 67, 81-86 (U.S. 2001), the U.S. Supreme Court held another public-private partnership unconstitutionally impermissible. Here, the local prosecutor, concerned about crack babies, teamed up with the local hospital to develop a program seeking to prevent expecting mothers from using cocaine during the pregnancy. They developed a program where the hospital would test for the presence of cocaine and provide a program to help with abstinence. If the patient refused, the results were shared with the prosecutor's office which in turn would encourage participation at the threat of prosecution. The U.S. Supreme Court found the entanglement of public and private interests sufficient to conclude the blood test by the hospital was a Fourth Amendment violation by the state. Id. at 86.

95. Similarly, the entanglement of public and private interests involved with the City of Minneapolis accepting and using CTCL's $3,000,000 private federal election grant is unconstitutional impermissible.

96. The idea of the federal and state government exclusively funding federal elections is to eliminate undue influence and the appearance of undue influence by private parties.

97. CTCL's private funding of federal elections re-introduces undue influence and the appearance of undue influence into federal elections—which is constitutionally impermissible.

Help America Vote Act (HAVA)

98. The Help America Vote Act (HAVA), 52 USC § 209, preempts CTCL's private federal election grants for the following reasons.

99. HAVA established the Election Assistance Commission (EAC) to assist the states regarding HAVA compliance and to distribute HAVA funds to the states.

100. EAC is also charged with creating voting system guidelines and operating the federal government's first voting system certification program.

101. EAC is also responsible for maintaining the National Voter Registration form, conducting research, and administering a national clearinghouse on elections that includes shared practices, information for voters and other resources to improve elections.

102. HAVA requires that the states implement the following new programs and procedures:

- Provisional Voting
- Voting Information
- Updated and Upgraded Voting Equipment
- Statewide Voter Registration Databases
- Voter Identification Procedures
- Administrative Complaint Procedures

In the past, Minnesota's HAVA plan, required by HAVA, was approved by the EAC.

103. HAVA's purpose was to coordinate federal and state administration of federal elections.

104. HAVA does not legally authorize local governments to accept private federal election grants.

105. HAVA's preemption prohibits local governments from accepting private federal election grants.

106. Under HAVA, the EAC is to be bi-partisan and work with all the states in a bi-partisan way.

107. The CTCL's private federal election grants circumvent the EAC and the states and thus conflict with HAVA.

108. Under HAVA, the EAC and the states work toward election plans and budgets.

109. CTCL's private federal election grants to local governments lead to deviations from the federally-approved and state-approved election administration plans and budgets—thus, conflicting with HAVA.

110. The federal and state money distributed to county and city clerks that administer elections are distributed pursuant to a legally-authorized method, that is approved by the states under the guidance of EAC, so the counties and cities receive a state-approved share for election purposes.

111. But, local governments accepting CTCL's private federal election grants, violate HAVA by injecting money into federal elections which is not approved by the EAC or the states.

112. States are not allowed to deviate from plans submitted under HAVA. Local governments accepting CTCL's private federal election grants, violate HAVA.

113. The CTCL's private federal election grants to local governments are not part of HAVA.

114. Minnesota, consistent with HAVA and under the EAC's guidance, has already approved a fiscal plan for its elections. The CTCL's private federal election grants to the Minnesota's cities circumvents and violates that fiscal plan.

115. In Minnesota, it is too late for the state to modify its plan around CTCL's private federal election grants to ensure the legally-authorized, uniform and fair election HAVA requires.

116. The Supremacy Clause, as applied to HAVA, ensures that Minnesota cities do not act contrary to HAVA regarding federal elections.

117. HAVA preempts CTCL's private federal election grants to the cities.

118. Under the Supremacy Clause and HAVA, CTCL's private federal election grants are not legally authorized by federal law or state law.

119. The City of Minneapolis has acted ultra vires, without legal authority, in accepting and using CTCL's private federal election grant and forming the public-private partnership with CTCL for federal election administration.

National Voters Registration Act (NVRA)

120. National Voters Registration Act (NVRA), 52 U.S.C. §§ 20501–20511, preempts CTCL's private federal election grants for the following reasons.

121. Congress enacted the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (also known as the "Motor Voter Act"), to create "national procedures for voter registration for elections for Federal office." 52 U.S.C. § 20503.

122. The Act gave responsibility to the Federal Election Commission (FEC) to provide States with guidance on the Act, to develop a national mail voter registration form, and to compile reports on the effectiveness of the Act. A 2002 amendment in HAVA transferred the FEC's responsibilities under the Act to the EAC.

123. Section 5 of the NVRA requires states to provide individuals with the opportunity to register to vote at the same time that they apply for a driver's license or seek to renew a driver's license, and requires the State to forward the completed application to the appropriate state or local election official. 52 U.S.C. § 20504.

124. Section 6 of the NVRA provides that citizens can register to vote by mail using mail-in-forms developed by each state and the Election Assistance Commission. 52 U.S.C. § 20505.

125. Section 7 of the NVRA requires states to offer voter registration opportunities at all offices that provide public assistance and all offices that provide state-funded programs primarily engaged in providing services to persons with disabilities. Each applicant for any of these services, renewal of services, or address changes must be provided with a voter registration form or a declination form as well as assistance in completing the form and forwarding the completed application to the appropriate state or local election official. 52 U.S.C. § 20506.

126. Section 8 of the NVRA also creates requirements for how States maintain voter registration lists for federal elections. 52 U.S.C. § 20507.

127. NVRA's purpose was to coordinate federal and state administration of voter registration for federal elections and to create legally-authorized, nationwide, and uniform standards for voter registration.

128. NVRA does not legally authorize local governments to accept private federal election grants for voter registration.

129. NVRA's preemption prohibits local governments from accepting private federal election grants for voter registration.

130. Under NVRA, the EAC is to be bi-partisan and work with all the states in a bi-partisan way on voter registration for federal elections.

131. The CTCL's private federal election grants circumvent the EAC and the states and thus conflicts with NVRA.

132. Under NVRA, the EAC and the states work toward voter registration plans and budgets.

133. CTCL's private federal election grants to local governments lead to deviations from the federally-approved and state-approved election voter registration administration plans and budgets—thus, conflicting with NVRA.

134. The federal and state money distributed to county and city clerks that conduct voter registration are distributed pursuant to a legally-authorized method, that is approved by the states under the guidance of EAC, so the counties and cities receive a state-approved share for voter registration.

135. But, local governments accepting CTCL's private federal election grants, violate NVRA by injecting money into federal election voter registration which is not approved by the EAC or the states.

136. States are not allowed to deviate from the NVRA. Local governments accepting CTCL's private federal election grants, violate NVRA.

137. The CTCL's private federal election grants to local governments are not part of NVRA.

138. Minnesota, consistent with NVRA and under the EAC's guidance, has already approved a fiscal plan for voter registration for federal elections. The CTCL's private federal election grants to the Minnesota's cities circumvent and violate that fiscal plan.

139. In Minnesota, it is too late for the state to modify its plan in response to CTCL's private federal election grants to ensure the legally-authorized, uniform and fair election NVRA requires.

140. The Supremacy Clause, as applied to NVRA, ensures that Minnesota cities do not act contrary to NVRA regarding federal elections.

141. NVRA preempts CTCL's private federal election grants to the cities.

142. Under the Supremacy Clause and NVRA, CTCL's private federal election grants are not legally authorized by federal law or state law.

143. The City of Minneapolis has acted ultra vires, without legal authority, in accepting and using CTCL's private federal election grants and forming the public-private partnership with CTCL for federal election administration.

Minnesota 2020 Session Laws, ch. 77 (May 12, 202) preempts local governments from accepting private federal election grants.

144. The CTCL private federal election grant to Minneapolis is preempted because the Minnesota legislature established by law the method of appropriations and grants for elections.

145. As a city, Minneapolis cannot enact ordinances that will supersede or modify state or federal law regarding the conduct of federal elections.

146. In this regard, Congress appropriated moneys to Minnesota of which the state Legislature appropriated over $7.4 million from the state's HAVA account to the Secretary of State as Minnesota's chief elections officer.⁶

147. The Legislature also appropriated from the state's general fund to the state's HAVA account the amount of about $1.5 million.⁷

148. In addition, under the Federal Cares Act, the Legislature appropriated from the state's HAVA account over $6.9 million and the state appropriated another $1.4 million from the state's general fund to the state's HAVA account.⁸

149. Both authorizations of the Legislature identified the uses of those moneys as found under Minnesota 2020 Session Laws, Chapter 77, §3, subdivision 4.

150. The Legislature further directed the Secretary of State to administer the grants for the appropriations to Minnesota's cities and counties for COVID-19 moneys under Chapter 77, §4, subdivision 4.⁹

151. The CTCL private federal election grant to Minneapolis was never approved by the state legislature; so the CTCL private federal election grant is preempted under both federal and state law.

Minnesota Statutes § 609.42 preempts the CTCL private federal election grant to Minneapolis.

152. Minnesota Statutes § 609.42 is violated by CTCL's private federal election grants to cities.

⁶ See. Minn. 2020 Session Laws, Ch. 77, §3, subd. 1 (May 12, 2020) and Minn. Stat. §5.30.

⁷ Id. §3, subd. 2.

⁸ Id. §4, subds. 1 and 2.

⁹ Minn. Ch. 77, §

153. Minnesota election officials accepting and using CTCL's private federal election grants violate Minnesota Statutes § 609.42 prohibition on bribery.

154. Section § 609.42 prohibits public officials from receiving money if it would have an "influence."

155. The CTCL's private federal election grant was accepted by Minneapolis to turn out the progressive vote in Minneapolis where traditionally federal elections have been publicly-funded.

156. Minnesota Statutes § 609.42 states:

609.42 BRIBERY.

Subdivision 1. Acts constituting.

Whoever does any of the following is guilty of bribery and may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than ten years or to payment of a fine of not more than $20,000, or both:...

(2) being a public officer or employee, requests, receives or agrees to receive, directly or indirectly, any such benefit, reward or consideration upon the understanding that it will have such an influence...

157. It is bribery under § 609.42 for the City of Minneapolis to accept and use CTCL's private federal election grant without a state legislative enactment approving it.

158. Minnesota Statutes § 609.42 preempts CTCL's private federal election grants to the City of Minneapolis.

159. CTCL's private federal election grant to the City of Minneapolis is not legally authorized under Minnesota Statutes § 609.42.

160. The City of Minneapolis has acted ultra vires, without legal authority, in accepting and using CTCL's private federal election grants.

Demand for Jury Trial

161. Plaintiffs demand a jury trial.

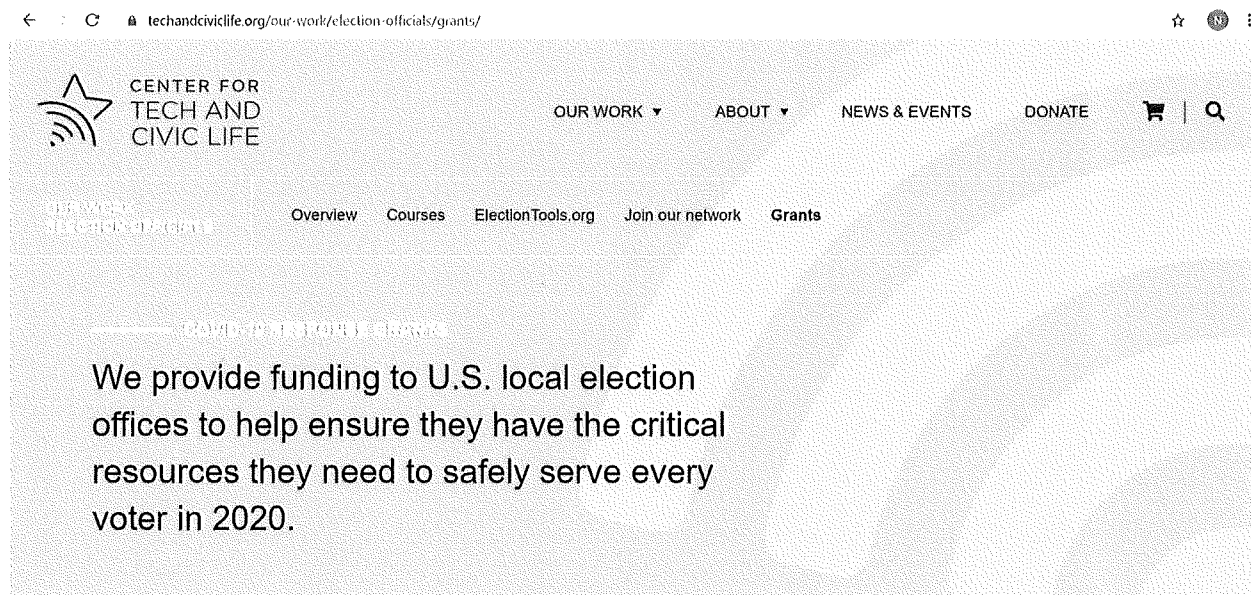

Prayer for Relief

Therefore, the Plaintiffs respectfully ask that this Court to:

1. Grant declaratory relief that the City of Minneapolis has acted ultra vires, acted without legal authority, in accepting CTCL's private federal election grants.
2. Issue an injunction enjoining the City of Minneapolis from accepting or using CTCL's private federal election grant and other private federal election grants.
3. Award the Plaintiffs all costs, expenses, and expert witness fees allowed by law;
4. Award the Plaintiffs attorneys' fees and costs allowed by law; and
5. Award the Plaintiffs such other and further relief as this Court deems just.

COVID-19 RESPONSE GRANTS

We provide funding to U.S. local election offices to help ensure they have the critical resources they need to safely serve every voter in 2020.

The Center for Tech and Civic Life (CTCL) is excited to expand our COVID-19 Response Grant program to all U.S. local election jurisdictions. Backed by a generous $250M contribution, CTCL will provide grants to local election jurisdictions across the country to help ensure you have the staffing, training, and equipment necessary so this November every eligible voter can participate in a safe and timely way and have their vote counted.

APPLY FOR A COVID-19 GRANT

The deadline to apply is October 1, 2020. Questions about the COVID-19 grant application or process? Email us at help@techandcivicliflife.org.

Why is CTCL providing grants to election offices?

Election officials have made it clear that one of their most pressing needs is funding. Based on this, CTCL is focusing philanthropic support to directly help election offices administer safe and secure elections in November.

Who is providing the grant?

CTCL is a publicly supported 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. CTCL is proud to have a healthy mix of financial support from foundations, individual donors, and through earned revenue. By law, CTCL's financial 990s are available for public review.

Grant funds will be disbursed from the Center for Tech and Civic Life.

Who do I reach out to with questions about the grant program?

Contact help@techandcivicliflife.org with any questions about the grant program.

What kind of election expenses do the grant funds cover?

Election offices can use the funds to cover certain 2020 expenses incurred between June 15, 2020 and December 31, 2020. These include, but are not limited to, the costs associated with the safe administration of the following examples of election responsibilities.

Ensure Safe, Efficient Election Day Administration

- Maintain open in-person polling places on Election Day
- Procure Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and personal disinfectant to protect election officials and voters from COVID-19
- Support and expand drive-thru voting, including purchase of additional signage, tents, traffic control, walkie-talkies, and safety measures

Expand Voter Education & Outreach Efforts

- Publish reminders for voters to verify and update their address, or other voter registration information, prior to the election
- Educate voters on safe voting policies and procedures

Launch Poll Worker Recruitment, Training & Safety Efforts

- Recruit and hire a sufficient number of poll workers and inspectors to ensure polling places are properly staffed, utilizing hazard pay where required
- Provide voting facilities with funds to compensate for increased site cleaning and sanitization costs

- Deliver updated training for current and new poll workers administering elections in the midst of pandemic

Support Early In-Person Voting and Vote by Mail

- Expand or maintain the number of in-person early voting sites
- Deploy additional staff and/or technology improvements to expedite and improve mail ballot processing

How do I know that my office is eligible to receive a grant?

If your U.S. election office is responsible for administering election activities covered by the grant, you're eligible to apply for grant funds.

How much money is my office eligible to apply for?

Your election office will be eligible to apply for a grant amount based on a formula that considers the citizen voting age population and other demographic data of your jurisdiction. Minimum grants will be $5,000. You may choose to receive less than the offered amount if your needs or eligible expenses do not reach that amount.

Is this a matching funds grant?

Matching funds are not required to apply for this grant.

What if I share election responsibilities with another local government office?

If you share election responsibilities with another local government office, you are encouraged to submit one combined application for grant funds. This means you'll coordinate with your other local government offices.

What information does my office need to provide in the grant application?

You will need to provide the following information in your grant application:

- Number of active registered voters in the election office jurisdiction as of September 1, 2020
- Number of full-time staff (or equivalent) on the election team as of September 1, 2020
- Election office 2020 budget as of September 1, 2020
- Election office W-9
- Local government body who needs to approve the grant funding (if any)
- What government official or government agency the grant agreement should be addressed to

Who should submit the application for my election office?

Your election office's point of contact for the grant should submit the grant application. We leave it to you to determine who should be the point of contact.

When can I submit my application?

You'll be able to submit your grant application beginning the week of Tuesday, September 8, 2020.

When will my office receive the grant?

We recognize that election jurisdictions need funding as soon as possible to cover the unprecedented expenses of 2020 elections. We plan to move quickly! After you submit your application, CTCL anticipates that the certification and approval of your grant will take about 2 weeks. The disbursement timeline will depend on your local approval process.

Will the grant be mailed via check or transferred via wire?

Wiring the grant funds is faster, but you can receive the funds via a mailed check if preferred.

What reporting is required?

You will be required to submit a report that indicates how you spent the grant funds. The report will be in a format that should not be overly burdensome.

When do I report how my office spent the funds?

You'll need to submit your grant report by January 31, 2021.

‘Not Plan A’: Charities Are Stepping Up To Pay For 2020 Elections

By Nicholas Riccardi/Associated Press

Sept. 18, 6 a.m. CT

As Congress balks, well-funded nonprofits are donating hundreds of millions of dollars to help state and local officials run elections during the pandemic — a sudden infusion of private cash in what was once considered a core government function.

Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg and his wife, Priscilla Chan, earlier this month announced they will donate $300 million to two nonpartisan nonprofits. The groups, the Center for Tech and Civic Life and Center for Election Innovation and Research, will funnel the money to local officials working “to ensure that everyone can vote and every vote can be counted,” Zuckerberg said in announcing

The Center for Tech and Civic Life had already doled out more than $20 million from other donors — money that allowed the city of Philadelphia to double its election budget and quadruple its mail-ballot-processing capacity. In Milwaukee, its contribution is helping recruit as many as 1,000 new poll workers. In Fulton County, Georgia, the cash will help keep open more polling places after a June primary plagued by last-minute closures of polling places.

The nonprofits’ involvement was welcomed by election officials who have been pleading with state and federal lawmakers for help paying for a raft of new equipment, protective gear and staff needed to adjust for the surge of mail-in voting expected this year. Congress sent money in March, largely to assist with primary elections. Republicans have blocked Democratic attempts to allocate more.

The direct infusion of millions of dollars marks a new level in private funding for a core public responsibility. The cash comes with a new set of questions about donor transparency, motivations and the influence of groups and figures that are not democratically accountable.

NOT NOW

“This is not Plan A,” said David Becker, head of the Center for Election Innovation and Research, which received $50 million from Zuckerberg and Chan. However, Becker said his group, which until this year normally raised about a million dollars a year, was trying to respond to what he considered an emergency caused by the pandemic.

With the election nearing, “failure is not an option,” he said.

Charitable institutions have long played supportive roles in elections by activity has picked up dramatically. Companies like Microsoft and Target have announced they'll give paid leave to employees who work the polls. Basketball teams have promised to turn sports arenas into polling centers at no cost.

But the amount of money and direct payments to public agencies that run elections mark a dramatic new level of mobilization. Election advocates say it was necessitated by Congress' failure to step in.

The CARES Act, passed in late March, allocated $400 million to election agencies to help update voting systems. The Brennan Center for Justice, a voting rights advocacy group, estimated it could cost $4 billion to prepare the election offices across the country.

House Democrats in May approved a second coronavirus relief bill that included an additional $3.6 billion, but Senate Republicans didn't act on the measure. Instead, last week they proposed their own "skinny" bill that did not have any election money and that did not pass the Senate.

"Congress allocated $60 billion to the airlines and only $400 million to thousands of election offices across 50 states," said Amber McReynolds, whose nonprofit Vote from Home hopes to begin distributing small grants to help local offices pay for ballot drop boxes and electronic tracking of mail ballots.

The Chicago-based Center for Tech and Civic Life began doling out grants this summer. The organization was founded in 2012 by former staffers at the bipartisan — its board includes Pam Anderson, a Republican former election administrator in suburban Denver. The group says its stated mission is using technology to modernize voting.

Federal records show it has typically raised about $1 million annually before this year. But donations have been flowing in as concern mounts over the ability of election officials to handle November. The Center gave $6.2 million to Wisconsin's five largest cities, $10 million to Philadelphia, and $6 million to Fulton County, which includes Atlanta. Zuckerberg and Chan then contributed an additional $250 million.

The CTCL declined to disclose its other donors for the year or itemize all its contributions to local offices.

The group says the money will go toward recruiting poll workers and implementing drive-up voting sites, while the money to the CEIR, the second, unrelated nonprofit, will go to public information campaigns explaining mail balloting procedures and logistics on pandemic voting.

Anderson, who is also on the board of CEIR, said nobody thinks the situation is ideal. "I hope it leads to a broader conversation about funding election administration — if we want it, let's fund it," she said.

Becker, who expects to have his share of the grant distributed as soon as the end of the month, said the money will be critical in ensuring the public has confidence in the election. But, he noted, it comes too late for most election offices to make major changes, like buying expensive mail-sorting machines or updating voting systems.

"What they could have done with billions in June is very different than what they can do now," Becker said. "Running an efficient election should be something government invests in."

The donation from Zuckerberg, who made his fortune creating a social media behemoth that is a center of false claims about the election and voting, has frustrated some who see it as a bid for good public relations.

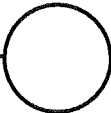

the world, a donation in the final weeks of the election is too little, too late,” said Tara McGowan, a Democratic digital strategist.

Conservatives note the Democratic origins of CTCL and that its donations have predominantly been in areas where Democrats depend on votes. The group has announced an upcoming series of grants to rural areas but hasn’t provided specifics.

“I cannot believe people of such partisanship will put their partisanship aside while taking hundreds of millions of dollars and distributing it to election offices,” said Scott Walter, head of the conservative Capital Research Center, which monitors nonprofits.

Still, Walter acknowledged, conservative-leaning nonprofits — and the GOP Senate — have not stepped in to help elections officials.

“Honestly, I wish the right would do it, not only so the election would be more balanced but so we could have an honest debate about whether [charities] should do this,” Walter said.
