

Obama Pastor's AIDS Charge Mimics Soviet KGB Disinformation Campaign

Asked during the question-and-answer period following his National Press Club speech on April 28, 2008, why he charged the U.S. Government with manufacturing the AIDS virus to kill black people, Barack Obama's "former" pastor Jeremiah Wright cited a 1996 book by Leonard Horowitz, Emerging Viruses: AIDS and Ebola. The book promotes an old Soviet disinformation theme that has been disavowed by former Soviet and KGB officials.

The charge that AIDS is a plot against blacks has been used by people like Jeremiah Wright and Louis Farrakhan to inflame race relations. Louis Farrakhan's newspaper, The Final Call, ran an article (December 15, 1999) quoting Horowitz as saying that AIDS is a "genocidal plot" against blacks. The paper's on-line version carried a link to the Horowitz website. Horowitz claims a copy of his book was used in the Will Smith movie, "I Am Legend," about a plague that kills most people on earth and transforms some that are left into mutants.

Horowitz, who has quite a following and speaks around the country, raises some legitimate questions about AIDS, vaccines, and the medical establishment. The U.S. certainly studied the feasibility of using viruses or germs as weapons. But the claims about AIDS being manufactured by the U.S. Government as a weapon of population control have been debunked. The evidence showed the Soviets had used the AIDS charge against the U.S. to divert attention from their own biological weapons program.

He replied, however, "I am happy to learn that the Nation of Islam's, The Final Call, a newspaper that issues Louis Farrakhan's concerns regarding HIV/AIDS as genocide, has a direct link to our website. I applaud Minister Farrakhan, and a half dozen other Black leaders, who have grasped the truth about HIV/AIDS as a utilitarian population control plot, and have the guts to say it."

This report is published and distributed by America's Survival, Inc.
Cliff Kincaid, President.
443-964-8208 www.usasurvival.org Kincaid@comcast.net

'White people want to wipe us out'

Researcher, author insists AIDS a weapon of genocide

Call

Dr. Jack Felder was born in Columbia, S.C., in 1939. From 1962-1964, he was a U.S. Army germ warfare specialist assigned to the 5th Army Regiment in Chicago. He did the same job for Natick Labs outside Boston, Mass., from 1964-1966 as a civilian. From 1966 to 1970, he was a research scientist and translator at Siemens Firm in Berlin, Germany. He returned to the U.S. in 1974 to teach science and math at Harlem Prep in New York City. He earned Master's and Doctorate degrees in biochemistry from New York State University and has authored and self-published over 15 books including: "From the Statue of Liberty to the Statue of Bigotry" (1986); "AIDS-U.S. Germ Warfare at its Best with Documents and Proof" (1986); "Who Really Assassinated Dr. Martin Luther King" (1987); and "Who Really Was Behind the Assassination of Malcolm X" (1988). He retired from the New York City Public Schools in 2001. He recently sat down with Final Call contributor Lamont Muhammad to discuss the AIDS pandemic.

because of the blood thing with Muslims—no inoculations. No AIDS broke out in Sudan.

ECN: So you are arguing that the United Nations and the World Health Organization (WHO) pretended to assist Africans and other dark people while actually inoculating them to wipe them out?

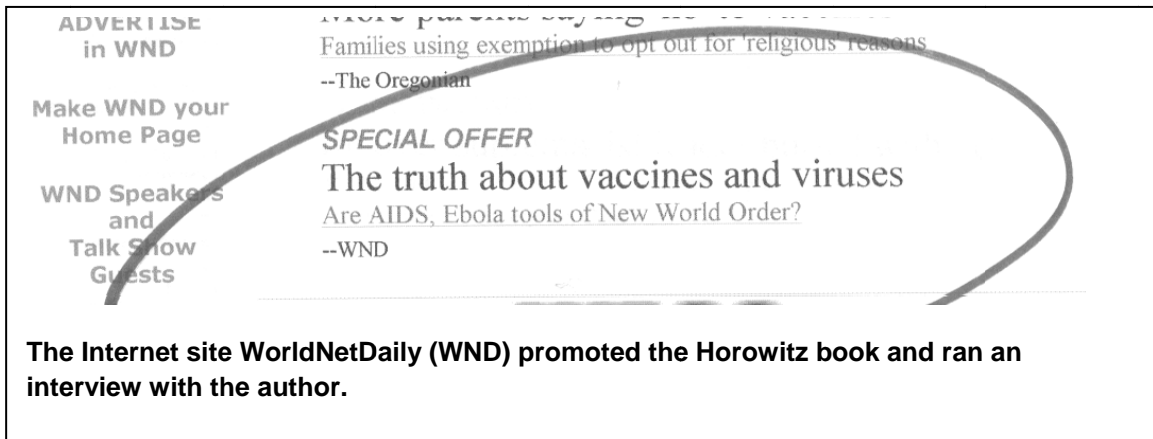

DJF: A few Whites make the argument against themselves. Dr. Leonard G. Horowitz wrote a book called "Emerging Viruses: AIDS and Ebola—Nature, Accident, or Intentional?" He argues AIDS was man-made and designed for population reduction. Dr. Horowitz also wrote "Death in the Air: Globalism, Tourism and Toxic Warfare." In it he asks, "What if the CDC was really the White Center for (Control of the Diseases in people of color)?" What if the WHO was actually the White Health Organization? And what if the people sick people depend upon to heal them are responsible for manufacturing and manipulating diseases? He argues that they do. Dr. Robert Strecher and Dr. Alan Cantwell also argue in their books that AIDS was man-made. Lyndon LaRouche spent years in jail for claiming AIDS was man-made and designed to reduce targeted populations.

Horowitz says that "God blessed him with the wisdom with which to diagnose the instigators of the greatest epidemics in earth's history..."

He released another book, Death in the Air, which purports to include information about the "intentional targeting of black Americans and Africans for population control, including depopulation, as is being accomplished by the AIDS epidemic today." The release for the book cited an alleged "secretly dispatched National Security Memorandum 46 to cabinet chiefs only" from Zbigniew Brzezinski, who was national security adviser in the Carter Administration. The release said, "This document, the most telling, authorized the FBI and CIA to initiate genocidal policies."

This document was reproduced in "Soviet Active Measures. Hearings before the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, House of Representatives, Ninety-Seventh Congress, Second Session, July 13, 14, 1982." These 1982 hearings produced evidence that the document was a forgery, possibly of Soviet origin, designed to hurt U.S. relations with Africa. An analysis showed that one of the individuals involved in its distribution was a former member of the Communist Party USA who became affiliated with the World Peace Council, a Soviet front.

ADVERTISE in WND

Make WND your Home Page

WND Speakers and Talk Show Guests

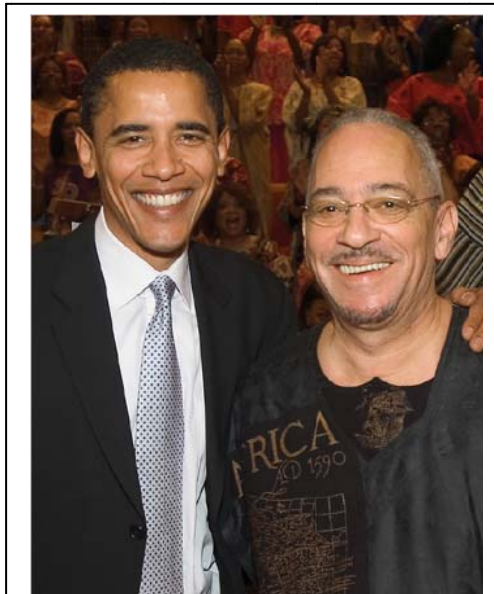

SPECIAL OFFER
The truth about vaccines and viruses
Are AIDS, Ebola tools of New World Order?
--WND

The Internet site WorldNetDaily (WND) promoted the Horowitz book and ran an interview with the author.

The document, an obvious hoax, included no reference to genocide. Rather, it outlined a bogus government effort to monitor and provoke blacks at home and abroad. There was an authentic Presidential Review Memorandum 46, but it concerned events in Central America. It can be found in a listing of Carter presidential National Security Council documents.

Wright isn't the first public figure to repeat the claim that AIDS is a U.S. weapon to kill people. The claim that AIDS was manufactured by the United States was reported by CBS Evening News anchor Dan Rather on a March 30, 1987, broadcast. Rather was widely criticized for playing into a Soviet KGB disinformation campaign. The charge had appeared in a number of Soviet and Third World publications before Rather picked it up.

Horowitz went further than Rather, suggesting the charge is backed up by "evidence." In his book, Emerging Viruses, on page 363, he wrote that,

Obama and Wright

"For years preceding the end of the Cold War, the KGB gathered evidence, that Russian officials ultimately reported, suggesting an American origin of AIDS. Officials alleged that the AIDS virus had been a Pentagon invention - a germ unleashed for political purposes in Zaire." In fact, the communists made up the charges.

The Soviet KGB had planted charges in a propaganda operation designed to conceal the hand of the KGB. This is the nature of an "active measures" campaign. A report on this matter is Soviet Influence Activities: A Report on Active Measures and Propaganda, 1986-87, published in August 1987 by the U.S. Department of State. The published hearings of the House Intelligence Committee are also very useful.

The screenshot shows the ShopNetDaily website interface. At the top left is the logo "ShopNetDaily". To its right are navigation links: "View Cart", "My Wish List", "My Account", and "Help". Below the logo is a breadcrumb trail: "Top -> Books -> Current Affairs". There are two buttons: "Add to Cart" and "Add to Wish List". On the left is a vertical menu with categories: Books, Children, Civics, Current Affairs, Education, Evolution, Fiction, Foreign News, Globalism, History, Money, Politics, Reference, Social Issues, CD-rom, Children, O'Reilly Items, Pictures/Art, Publications, and Special Reports. The main content area features a book listing for "Death in the Air: Globalism, Terrorism & Toxic Warfare" by Dr. Len Horowitz. The book cover shows a dark, textured background with a white bird in flight and the title "Globalism, Terrorism and Toxic Warfare" at the bottom. The author's name "Dr. Leonard G. Horowitz" is at the top of the cover. To the right of the cover is a quantity selector (checkbox and "1") and a price indicator "$". Below the title and author is a descriptive paragraph: "Veteran conspiracy investigator and health rights activist, Dr. Len Horowitz, has done it again. His new book clearly documents the failure of public health policies to deal with the onslaught of 'non-lethal' chemical, biological and radiological agents that are waging a war of attrition against the immune system of Americans." Below this is a short review: "Death in the Air: Globalism, Terrorism and Toxic Warfare delivers the most heretical message in the annals of world health and American medicine, backed by the most astonishing hard-hitting documents to ever address this life-threatening crisis."

The Horowitz book, on page 364, reproduced a Soviet Pravda cartoon depicting the "American origin" of the AIDS virus. He gave "courtesy" credit to Covert Action Information Bulletin. In fact, he cites individuals associated with Covert Action Information Bulletin as legitimate sources of information on this topic. Yet this publication, according to 1980 hearings of the House Intelligence Committee, published a Soviet forgery of a NATO document as if it were authentic. Covert Action Information Bulletin was associated with Philip Agee, the CIA defector who collaborated with the Cuban Communists.

Вирус СПИД, тяжелой болезни, от которой пока не найдено средств лечения, по мнению некоторых западных ученых, был создан в лабораториях Пентагона. (Из газет).

Пентагоновские СПИДциалисты.

Рисунок Д. Агаева.

The AIDS charge against the Pentagon was disavowed in late 1987 by then Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev, who said, "No more lying. No More disinformation," in an effort at a more open foreign policy. (In fact, the Russians have continued these disinformation campaigns since the fall of the old Soviet Union, as the book, Comrade J, documents).

At the time, however, Russian officials were trying to put on a fresh face. In fact, four years before the Horowitz book was published, Yevgeni Primakov, former head of the KGB, admitted that "the KGB planted stories in the late 1980s which alleged that the HIV virus was the result of a Pentagon experiment."

The New York Times
nytimes.com

November 5, 1987

SOVIET DISAVOWS CHARGES THAT U.S. CREATED AIDS

AP

LEAD: Soviet scientists have disavowed charges in the Soviet-sponsored press that the AIDS virus was artificially cultivated at a secret American military base.

The scientists, Roald Sagdeyev and Vitali Goldansky, publicly distanced the Soviet Academy of Sciences from the accusations about American responsibility for acquired immune deficiency syndrome. They said they had protested the appearance of Soviet articles that repeated those contentions.

The disavowal was contained in Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, on Friday. The timing of the article by the scientists suggested that it had been written in response to complaints raised by Secretary of State George P. Shultz in an Oct. 23 meeting with Mikhail S. Gorbachev, the Soviet leader, about Soviet discussion of the AIDS issue...

In 1992, two former officers of the East German intelligence service, the Stasi, published a book in which they described how they collaborated with the KGB to promote the AIDS disinformation, using Russian-born East German professor Dr. Jakob Segal. This is mentioned in John O. Koehler's 1999 book, Stasi: The Untold Story of the East German Secret Police.

New Book Links HIV/AIDS to African American Genocide: Compelling National Security Documents Target Black Groups

Horowitz
ment
tz
Death
osé
ing ecurity
t Black de roves
and acy raying
h Risk
blic
poses
Virus

Sandpoint, ID — A new book by an award winning health science writer, Dr. Leonard G. Horowitz, concludes that the predilection of HIV/AIDS for black America and Africa is the likeliest result of successful national security policies advanced during the Nixon and Carter administrations. Compelling national security documents reveal the intentional targeting of black Americans and Africans for population control, including depopulation, as is being accomplished by the AIDS epidemic today.

Not likely a coincidence, according to U.S. Government documents reprinted in Death in the Air: Globalism, Terrorism and Toxic Warfare (Tetrahedron Publishing Group, 2001; 1-888-508-4787), every sociopolitical and economic outcome secretly planned for Black America and Africa by intelligence agencies during the Nixon and Carter years, has come to pass. Dr. Horowitz, a Harvard graduate in public health and emerging diseases expert, likewise links the AIDS epidemic's devastating toll on Black populations as reflective of the secret policies.

During the early 1970s, Dr. Horowitz writes, National Secret Security Memorandum 200, advanced by Nixon's National Security Advisor, Henry Kissinger, called for massive Third World depopulation among efforts to maintain the economic alignment of the superpowers. Zbigniew Brzezinski, who replaced Dr. Kissinger for the Carter administration, secretly dispatched National Security Memorandum 46 to cabinet chiefs only. This document, the most telling, authorized the FBI and CIA to initiate genocidal policies.

Former KGB officer Oleg Gordievsky admitted the Soviet KGB role in spreading the AIDS charge against the U.S. in his 1990 book, The KGB - The Inside Story. Gordievsky called the charge a “fabrication” that “also took in some of the Western media.” The leading Soviet AIDS expert, Viktor M. Zhdanov, also repudiated the anti-American charge.

The Sword and the Shield, published in 1999 and written by British Professor Christopher Andrew, includes more information. An expert on Soviet intelligence, Andrew wrote the book in consultation with Vasili Mitrokhin, a former Soviet KGB archivist who defected to the West in 1992. They call the AIDS charge “probably the most successful anti-American active measure of the Gorbachev era, promoted by a mixture of overt propaganda and covert action by Service A...” of the Soviet intelligence service. Fortified by “spurious scientific jargon,” they wrote that “the AIDS fabrication not merely swept through the Third World, but took in some of the Western media as well.”

They cite a front page article in the conservative British Sunday Express in October 1986 (see below).

Thanks to Obama's pastor, it is the lie that will not die.

