

White Reds Exploiting Blacks: The Weather Underground, Barack Obama, and the Fundamental Transformation of the United States

On September 11, 2010, Cliff and I sat down with former FBI Weatherman Task Force supervisor Max Noel for a series of interviews. Max told us that the FBI had a CARL test when it conducted background checks on people. CARL stood for Character, Associates, Reputation, and Loyalty. On all four points, Barack Obama fails. Like so many former FBI and law enforcement agents and officials, he was alarmed by the fact that someone like Barack Obama could attain the presidency. Since there was no vetting four years ago, let the vetting begin today.

I am in a unique position to know Barack Obama's associates. I worked with Bill Ayers and Bernardine Dohrn in the Weather Underground as an informant for the FBI. I never heard of Obama during my time in the movement, although I understand Joel Gilbert has developed information that Obama was active with a Weather Underground support group, the May 19th Communist Organization, in New York. That does not surprise me. Obama has associated with communists all of his life, from Frank Marshall Davis in Hawaii to Alice Palmer, Bill Ayers, and Bernardine Dohrn in Chicago. This is a pattern of associations that should have disqualified him from the presidency.

After I left the Weather Underground and testified against Ayers and Dohrn for their involvement in a murder plot that killed Police Sergeant Brian V. McDonnell, they surfaced in Chicago helping Obama launch his political career. Like true communists, who have been manipulating black Americans since shortly after the Russian revolution, Ayers and Dohrn would have seen revolutionary potential in Obama. He was, in the words of communist operative Frank Chapman, a "revolutionary mole." Perhaps that term was meant to be more than a figure of speech.

You see, Obama was a different kind of Democrat – one that would work with the communists. He and Danny K. Davis, his old friend and current Congressman from Chicago, were "New Party" Democrats, working to take over the Democratic Party from within. That is how Frank Marshall Davis worked in Hawaii to take over the NAACP and the Democratic Party. These are the tactics of infiltration now being practiced in a different way by the Muslim Brotherhood and its front organizations.

As Trevor points out in his report, that activity in Chicago included working with Alice Palmer, a communist agent with close ties to the old Soviet Union and its international front organizations. Look, folks, this is no accident.

Many do not seem to understand the revolutionary warfare that engulfs our country at the present time. It is time to get educated – and quickly.

Essentially, nothing has changed since the days I was reporting to the FBI. The communists are working with the Arab and Muslim terrorists against the United States.

I remember one meeting when our Weatherman “collective” brought up the subject of the Kennedy assassinations. At least 20 to 25 people were present and Bill Ayers was one of them. I heard Bill state that the murders of both John F. Kennedy and Robert F Kennedy were a good thing because liberals compromise the conflict between U.S. imperialism and the socialist revolution. Liberals prevent the contradictions from becoming obvious and thus prevent a revolution. Therefore, the assassinations of the Kennedys were to be welcomed as a necessary advance on the road to communist world revolution.

This gives you some idea as to why the political statement of the Weather Underground, "Prairie Fire," was dedicated to a number of people, including Sirhan Sirhan, who killed Robert Kennedy. Sirhan Sirhan was a Palestinian Marxist terrorist who had been associated with the Communist Party USA. The CPUSA was also involved with the Weathermen.

The April 17, 1965 demonstrations sponsored by SDS, were participated in by communist-dominated organizations including the CPUSA, the CPUSA youth group WEB Dubois Club of America (DCA), and the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). (22) Lincoln Bergman, later to become a Weatherman, was one of the coordinators of this demonstration. (23) Lincoln had participated in communist organizations and activities prior to this time. (24)

Note that Sirhan Sirhan was from the Middle East while Lee Harvey Oswald was Caucasian and from Texas. I believe that's why Oswald's name wasn't included in the dedication for Prairie Fire. You see, white people were not “oppressed people.” Arab terrorists, representing the “oppressed people” of the Middle East, were allies of the communists from the get-go. And they still are today.

It is possible, of course, that Bill knew something about Oswald that was not acknowledged back then – or even today by many people. And that is that he was a Marxist with a love for the Soviet Union and Cuba who had contacts with intelligence officers from both countries. Oswald had been active in the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

Bill and Bernardine certainly had contacts with Castro's intelligence service, the DGI. Then, and now, the DGI runs a "travel service" to Cuba. Then it was known as the Venceremos Brigades.

8 The first known trip of significance to Cuba occurred in January, 1968 when Carl Davidson, Todd Gitlin, Gerry Long, Susan Sutheim and Tom Hayden traveled to Cuba to attend the International Cultural Congress. (Long and Sutheim later became Weathermen.) (100) David Dellinger of the NMC also attended this conference, (101) as did many communists and revolutionaries from around the world. (102) The announced purpose of this conference was to obtain unity of action in Cuban anti-imperialism fights (103) and to spread revolution and hatred of the U.S. (104) The theme was the "Struggle Against U.S. Imperialism." (105) At this conference delegates condemned the U.S. for what the communists alleged was U.S. aggression, and support was pledged to North Vietnam. The delegates also pledged to promote violence against the United States whenever it was deemed necessary (106) The attendees also met with representatives of Red China, North Korea and North Vietnam and visited the National Liberation Front (NLF) Mission in Havana. (107) During this three and one half week trip, Davidson finalized arrangements for a visit of twenty SDS members to travel to Cuba. (108)

The nature of the communist conspiracy is such that we don't know precisely who knows what. Who was in on the secret about Oswald and Sirhan?

By the same token, who was in on the secret about Obama? Why was the identity of "Frank" in Obama's book revealed when communist writer Gerald Horne spilled the beans back in 2007? What was he thinking?

Ladies and gentlemen, these are operations that involve foreign intelligence services hostile to the United States and which are prepared to use any tactics, up to and including political assassination, to carry out their plans. They have not gone away.

I look back on those comments by Bill on the Kennedy murders and it helps me understand certain things about the communist conspiracy that continues to target the United States. Blacks can be used for the revolution, but they can be sacrificed as part of the revolution as well. Indeed, like the Muslims, they are cannon fodder for the revolution.

Cliff has distributed material from Communist defector Ion Mihai Pacepa, who has written extensively about Lee Harvey Oswald's role as a KGB agent. There is a new book out by former CIA officer Brian Latell which examines a Cuban communist role in the murder of JFK. That is not surprising; the KGB and DGI worked closely together. We know from intelligence documents that the KGB took an active interest in the Weathermen, and that Kathy Boudin actually traveled to the old Soviet Union. ¹ Her father, Leonard Boudin, was a member of the Communist Party and registered Cuban agent.

(9) For example, Kathy Boudin's father was a member of the Communist Party U.S.A. (CPUSA) and a registered Cuban agent. (10) He was named in a prepared briefing on espionage and subversive activity given to President Eisenhower and others at a National Security Council meeting in 1956. (11) In 1964, Kathy Boudin was invited by the Cuban Mission to the United Nations (CMUN) to attend a Cuban July 26th celebration. (12) She spent her senior year of college at Moscow University, Moscow, U.S.S.R. (1964-65). (13) Boudin went to the U.S.S.R. on her own and not through any special student program. While in the U.S.S.R. she received 75 rubbles per month from the Russian government as a stipend. (14) Her father also sent her materials on the American Youth Festival which was to be held in Algeria while she was in Russia, and told her that while in Prague he was told that if she wanted to attend as an interpreter, it could possibly be arranged. (15) In the course of attempting to arrange a meeting in the United States with Kathy Boudin, a Soviet official contacted her father, Leonard Boudin. Thereafter, Kathy Boudin was observed entering the Soviet Embassy. (16) In 1967, she traveled back to the Soviet Union. (17) Kathy Boudin became a member of SDS and later became a Weatherman.

One document states, "A person known by the FBI to be maintaining a covert relationship with the Soviet Intelligence Service (SIS) was active in the SDS in 1969. This person acted as a spotter for SIS. An influential figure in this person's life was a former CPUSA member who also maintained a similar covert relationship with SIS."

In early 1969, CPUSA leaders urged Party members to give time and money to New Left demonstrations and causes. (199)

A person known by the FBI to be maintaining a covert relationship with the Soviet Intelligence Service (SIS) was active in the SDS in 1969. This person acted as a spotter for SIS. An influential figure in this person's life was a former CPUSA member who also maintained a similar covert relationship with SIS. (200)

In regard to the killing of Robert Kennedy, Pacea tells us that he is intrigued by the part of Sirhan Sirhan's diary in which he professes his love for communism and states that the U.S. "decline" began on November 23, 1963 -- the day after JFK was killed by Oswald.

Gus Hall, General Secretary for CPUSA, claimed that CPUSA officials and members had taken part in the leadership, planning and initiation of these demonstrations and he told the CPUSA Secretariat that the peace struggle was one of the main projects of the Party and would be pushed on a full-time basis. (25) Communist and other subversive organizations thereafter were extremely active in demonstrations that

The murder of the Kennedys certainly spelled the virtual end of the day when anti-communist liberals were dominant in the Democratic Party. Obama is that "new breed" of Democrat.

From the start, it was clear to me that the communists were always looking for a black figurehead to do their bidding.

As you may know, Bill and Bernardine wrote a book in 2009 titled "Race Cause Against White Supremacy." They see Obama as a tool, a puppet, against white America, which is the evil villain. The "publisher's statement in the book says:

Our work, the work of Ayers and Dohrn and tens of millions of others made it possible for Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama to run for the Presidency. And President Obama's successful campaign started on the streets of Chicago.

One of Bernardine's chapters in "Race Course Against White Supremacy" is titled "The Modern Slave Ship." It is almost entirely about her experiences when she went to jail for refusing to provide an example of her handwriting to a grand jury that was investigating a Brinks armored car robbery that resulted in the deaths of one guard and two police officers. Bernardine was suspected of supplying the false identification for the individuals involved in this robbery, which was a combined operation by members of the Black Liberation Army and the Weather Underground. Kathy Boudin and David Gilbert were the Weathermen who were sent to prison, which resulted in their son Chesa being adopted and raised by Bernardine and Bill.

Ayers and Dohrn named their other children in honor of a Black Panther and Malcolm X.

But one of the officers killed in that Brinks robbery, Waverly Brown, was black.

Let me give you some background on their campaign against white supremacy.

In the summer of 1969 Bernardine Dohrn and several other members of the Weatherman faction of the SDS returned to Canada after having traveled to Cuba to meet with the North Vietnamese and the Cuban DGI. During the meetings with the North Vietnamese and the Cubans, Bernardine and her associates were strongly criticized for what was presented to them as "white skin privilege." They were also told that they were not truly revolutionaries as they had not made a total commitment to forming a viable underground which could carry out strategic sabotage.

Additionally, they were referred to as "white skinned intellectuals" that were playing at revolution. To a significant degree this was true, as most of the members of the Weathermen came from upper-middle-class or upper-class backgrounds and had attended some of the best universities in the country. In order to correct this problem the Weathermen needed to recruit working class people, Vietnam veterans, gang members and other streetwise individuals who would have some experience in fighting, placing bombs and otherwise living on the outside of the law. This issue of "white skin privilege" would come up time and again and I could see the frustration that it created and how the need would develop to overcome this obstacle at any cost.

At one point I asked, during one of our "criticism sessions," why we didn't recruit or make any efforts to recruit African-Americans or Latinos. Weatherman doctrine held that minorities inside the United States were actually a colonized people and therefore could fight a war of liberation while we, as white Americans, were part of US imperialism or at least profited from US imperialism.

My own beliefs, at the time, were that the leadership of the Weathermen felt that they would no longer be able to maintain absolute control of the organization if minorities were allowed to join. I think the weatherman leadership felt threatened and inadequate to maintain their positions.

Alberto Boza Hedalgo Gato, another First Secretary of the CMUN also operated as a Cuban intelligence officer. He also acted as a clearing agent for American citizens who traveled to Cuba and associated with individuals in black extremist and New Left groups (187) The Bureau became aware that export of the Cuban revolution was the fundamental principle of Cuba's foreign policy. (188) (The CMUN had also received a new First Secretary in September, 1968. He was an intelligence officer (DGI). He worked, at times, in conjunction with Soviet Intelligence personnel (KGB).) (190)

Future Weatherman Julie Nichamin was in Cuba from December, 1968 through April, 1969. (191) After talks with party people in Cuba about the selection procedure of Cuban Party members, she sent a letter to Bernardine Dohrn in January, 1969 setting out how people for the VB should be selected. Nichamin said it was important to select those who had a fairly high degree of commitment and involvement in the Movement, as this was especially important to the Cubans who were looking toward the future contribution these people could make to the movement. Nichamin further commented that if help was needed Jimenez of the CMUN should be contacted, and he was. (192)

International conferences were held in Tokyo in 1968 and 1969

One of my assignments was Detroit, Michigan, and I arrived there in late January of 1970. Shortly after my arrival I was assigned to a cell with four other people and during the meeting with Bill Ayers we were told that our objective would be to place bombs at the Detroit Police Officers Association (DPOA Building) and at the 13th precinct. Furthermore Bill instructed us to determine the best time to place these explosive devices that would result in the greatest number of deaths and injuries. He also directed that the bombs should be set to go off at the same time.

While we were gathering information regarding these two targets I noted that the DPOA building was a converted single-family brownstone that had been built prior to World War II. A walkway along the side of the building went from the main street to an alley in the back. Next to the DPOA building there was a red barn restaurant which was a new structure designed as a fast food outlet. This location was in a predominantly black neighborhood which meant that most of the customers in this red barn restaurant were black. After a week of information gathering we had another meeting with Bill Ayers and at this time I suggested to Bill that if we placed the bomb in the walkway between these two buildings the DPOA building would suffer little if any damage while the red barn restaurant would most likely be destroyed. I also concluded that customers in that restaurant would die. Bill Ayers responded by telling me, "sometimes innocent people have to die in a revolution." I was shocked. I couldn't believe that a person who had so eloquently spoke of the black liberation movement could be so callous when it was obvious that the resulting explosion would kill many of the people he claimed to be so concerned about.

On October 1, Bernardine Dohrn advised Ted Gold that she planned on meeting Jose Viera, First Secretary of the CMUN who had been identified as an officer of the Cuban Intelligence Service. (299) The CMUN served as the focal point of Cuban intelligence in this country. Many of the Cubans assigned to the Mission had intelligence assignments. Two of Cuba's intelligence objectives in this country were to support groups which foment societal disorders including racial strife, student disorders and catalytic violent acts designed to create new revolutionaries. Jesus Jimenez Escobar, CMUN First Secretary, was a known Cuban Intelligence Service (DGI) officer involved in carrying out these objectives and was not allowed to return to the United States because of these activities

Jimenez and other DGI intelligence officers at the CMUN had extensive contact with representatives of revolutionary groups in this country, including the SDS/Weathermen. Cuban Intelligence Service officers were known to support such revolutionary groups by furnishing advice, logistical and/or monetary support. The CMUN, through its intelligence officers, also provided New Left revolutionary groups opportunities for guerrilla training in addition to serving as a clandestine communications link among New Left leaders. New Left leaders (including but not limited to Michael Spiegel, Bernardine Dohrn, Martin Kenner, Mark Rudd, Julie Nichamin, Karen Koonan, Kathy Boudin, Gerry Long, Karen Ashley, Jeff Jones and Jennifer Dohrn) discussed the activities with DGI officers attached to the CMUN and received advice and in some instances instructions from them. DGI officers

This is a lesson to be learned – blacks are not to be liberated, but exploited, even killed, on the road to liberation. In the communist view, even Obama will be sacrificed if he is perceived to be standing in the way of the fundamental transformation of the United States that he promised and which he is supposed to bring about.
