

Stolen Elections, Corruption, and Deliverance

Dr. David Clements is shown in the film outside the Central Detention Facility (CDF), also referred to as the D.C. Jail and the D.C. Gulag. January 6 (J6) pre-trial detainees are imprisoned there.

By Cliff Kincaid / April 28, 2024

If you do not accept the evidence that the 2020 presidential election was stolen, then you do not fully understand the “cartel” behind the corruption in government that wants to imprison Donald J. Trump.

This was among the messages of Dr. David Clements at a meeting of the Frederick County (Maryland) Conservative Club on April 25, as he linked the stolen election of 2020 to the imprisonment of January 6 protesters, many of whom went into the Capitol with a police escort, not knowing at the time they were being set up by federal and FBI informants in the crowd.

In this way, Trump, who had urged peaceful and patriotic protests, was accused of waging the “insurrection” that was being staged against him.

The “cartel,” another word for the operations of what has been called the Deep State, is a reference to U.S. intelligence agencies, especially the FBI, working in coordination with the national Democratic Party, historically the mouthpiece of slaveholders and most important institutional supporter of slavery in the United States. Under Barack Hussein Obama, America’s first black president, the Democratic Party became a Marxist political party in the U.S. whose agents and operatives, including former United Nations lawyer and “Special Counsel” Jack Smith, are now trying to imprison former President Trump.

One of the unarmed J6 protesters, Ashli Babbitt, a military veteran, was murdered by the Capitol police. Her mother Micki Witthoef joined Clements on stage, and other family members of J6 protesters still in prison were in the audience. The family of Ashli Babbitt has filed a wrongful death lawsuit against the U.S. government over her murder.

“Justice for Ashli Babbitt” pages are on the X and Facebook social media platforms. A place called “Freedom Corner” near Washington D.C.’s city jail is the scene of vigils to remember the protesters.

The Clements film, “Let My People Go.” was shown at the event, which concluded with members of the audience singing the Star-Spangled Banner in concert with J6 prisoners. Clements, who maintains a YouTube channel at the present time, The Professor’s Record, interviews victims of the FBI.

Robyn Sachs of the Maryland Voter Integrity Group called the Clements film, with strong Christian overtones and messages, “a modern-day deliverance story where the American people are the slaves persecuted for exercising their freedoms and controlled by the warlords of a rigged election.”

While that assertion may strike some as overblown, the Clements film carefully documents with charts and graphs how the fraud occurred through obvious manipulation of computer systems and why a return to paper ballots is the only viable solution. Clements is a former professor and prosecutor.

A Congressional candidate in Maryland’s sixth district and long-time Trump supporter Dan Cox also appeared on stage, declaring the 2020 presidential election stolen and urging residents to vote for him in the May 14 Republican primary. He was the Republican candidate for governor in Maryland in 2022, losing to Wes Moore, a former member of the board of a marijuana company and investment banker whose lies and distortions about his own background were documented by a group called “Honest Maryland Dems.” Nevertheless, he was backed by Oprah Winfrey, just like Obama.

The Frederick County Conservative Club, led by Fred Propheter, has been encouraging local conservatives to get involved in the fight for election integrity and sign up as election judges.

While this writer cannot vouch for every claim in the film and disputes some of the charges, one of the well-documented assertions is the evidence of the sudden turnaround on election night, in such states as Georgia, Michigan, and Pennsylvania, when a Trump lead evaporated and Biden was declared the winner after mysterious pauses in the vote count. Millions of Americans witnessed this dramatic development on election night and in the early morning. It was apparent that manipulations with computer systems in the various states had occurred, perhaps as mail-in ballots gathered in advance were entered into the system.

Indeed, the film cites evidence from the “2,000 Mules” film, documenting alleged voter fraud through cell phone geolocation data and video surveillance of mail-in ballot drop boxes. Catherine Engelbrecht, founder of True the Vote, was a researcher for the film and argues that mail-in ballots are part of a well-crafted strategy to subvert election integrity through forced reliance on unstable, untested, insecure processes.

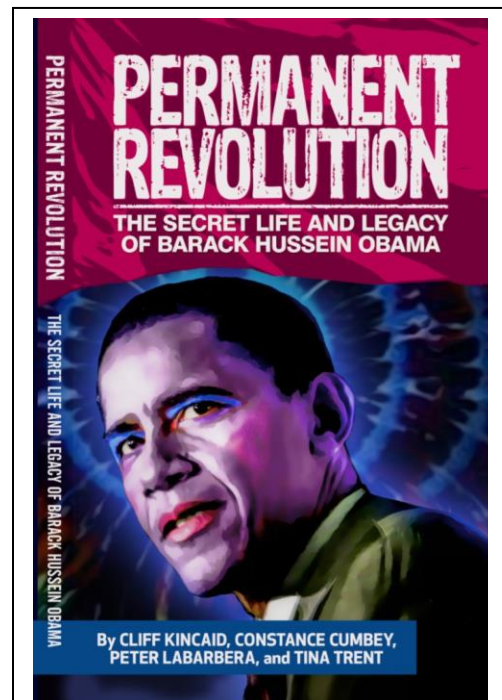

My Pillow’s Mike Lindell appears briefly in the Clements film, but not to make his sensational claims of foreign-directed cyber warfare attacks on electronic voting machines. His film “Absolute Proof,” described as “Exposing Election Fraud and the Theft of America,” cites a controversial “whistleblower” Dennis Montgomery, an alleged former NSA/CIA contractor, as a source for claims that computer screens of data (packet captures) are intercepts of the cyber-attacks.

But analysts like Jeff Nyquist had questioned the sources of those claims and the analysis. He told me, “I do not think it likely that thousands of voting machines were hacked by China, or that the whole thing was managed from overseas.” Instead, he said he thinks “corrupt party machines” in key places like Detroit and Philadelphia conducted the vote fraud “for their own reasons,” primarily getting Biden and other Democrats elected.

At the time, this writer had done a YouTube interview with a Republican attorney who had photographic evidence of an alleged vote fraud operation in Detroit, Michigan, in which cardboard was placed on the windows of a vote counting center so legally qualified challengers could not see into the room. Challengers were supposed to have the right to see votes counted and to challenge ballots. In addition, in the Detroit case, menacing “security guards” were used to discourage oversight. (see page eight).

That interview – and more than 500 pro-American videos – were then censored by YouTube.

On another America’s Survival TV show, pro-family activist Arthur Schaper discussed his encounter with FBI agents who showed up at his door to grill him about the events of January 6. He wasn’t there on January 6, when military veteran Ashli Babbitt was murdered by the Capitol Police, but they wanted to question him anyway.

Obama designated election systems as “critical infrastructure,” a federal power grab which intrudes on state authority.

Micki Witthoeft, mother of Ashli Babbitt.

It is another indication that the FBI has become an enforcement arm of the Biden regime's imposition of "Cultural Marxism" on the nation. Schaper was apparently monitored by the FBI because his group rescues young people from the clutches of sexual militants and seeks to restore Christian traditions of morality to America.

As the evidence of vote fraud operations by the Democratic Party in the 2020 election emerged, I interviewed Ed Welsch of Chronicles magazine, author of "The Madness of Mike Lindell," who described how the Lindell "Cyber Symposium" backfired and failed to provide "absolute proof" of foreign-directed cyber-attacks on the election.

If Lindell's claims eventually fall apart in court and he is ordered to pay financial damages to electronic voting machine companies, the well-documented case that election fraud and corruption were indeed at work in other ways on November 3, 2020, could be damaged.

For our part, we argued at the time of the election 2020 aftermath that Trump must exercise his constitutional authority to stay in office until a fair and honest election is held and that "Anything less would be a dereliction of duty."

On December 1, 2020, as the fate of the Trump presidency hung in the balance, Tom Zawistowski, President of the TEA Party affiliated We the People Convention (WTPC), published a full-page ad in the Washington Times newspaper demanding that President Trump Invoke limited martial law in order to allow the U.S. Military to oversee a new free and fair federal election if legislators, courts and the Congress did not follow the Constitution.

My interview with Tom Zawistowski was one of those videos censored by YouTube.

The ad published by Tom Zawistowski discussed the executive actions implemented by President Abraham Lincoln in his efforts to save the Union during the Civil War and the need for similar actions in the matter of the “literal civil war” threatening the Trump presidency and “dividing our nation today.”

“Then, as now,” said the ad, “a President with courage and determination was needed to preserve the Union. Today, the current threat to our United States by the international and domestic socialist/communist left is much more serious than anything Lincoln or our nation has faced in its history - including the civil war.”

This new civil war is now happening, in 2024, as the nation suffers through the Biden “presidency,” with wars raging in Europe and the Middle East, open borders leading to more crime on the streets, and the campuses of America being torn apart by communist-inspired protests.

In a December 20, 2020, column, “Why Joe Biden cannot be president,” I quoted military whistleblower Lt. Col. (Ret.) Tony Shaffer, who had appeared on one of my television shows, as saying that President Trump should never concede an election “victory” to Biden because there’s just too much evidence that the election was stolen.

House Speaker Mike Johnson, a constitutional attorney, has noted the facts behind the illegal certification of Biden as the 2020 “winner.”

“President Biden was certified as the winner of the election, he took the oath of office, he’s been the president for three years,” he noted in an interview with CBS. “What the argument that we presented to the court, which is our only avenue to do so, was that the Constitution was clearly violated in the 2020 election. It is article two, section one, and anyone can Google it and read it for themselves. The system by which you choose electors to elect the president of the United States must be done by the individual states and the system must be ratified [by] the state legislatures, that is language, plain language, in the constitution...”

After being interrupted, he went on to say, “Anyone who pulls up the Constitution on their smartphone, and reads Article Two [and] Section One of the Constitution has to agree with what I just told you. The Constitution was violated in the run up to the 2020 election, not always in bad faith, but in the aftermath of COVID, many states changed their election laws in ways that violated that plain language. That's just a fact. We presented that argument and... those facts to the court, and it was never directly addressed because of the Texas litigation, but that was the only vehicle we had to present that issue squarely to the court.”

Before he was assigned to “get Trump,” Special Counsel Jack Smith (above) conducted supervised “war crime prosecutions” at the International Criminal Court. Once they “convict” Trump on dubious grounds, they will try to put him on trial overseas and send him to a U.N. prison cell in the Netherlands.

The latter was a reference to a lawsuit filed by Republican Attorney General Ken Paxton to overturn the election results in various states, such as Georgia, Michigan, and Pennsylvania, because of illegal changes in election procedures. The Paxton lawsuit failed because of political considerations, secret pressures, and other factors, such as an alleged lack of standing.

Trump avoided being another Lincoln, leaving the door open for Joe Biden and his Obama-era personnel to take control of the White House. Biden, under the control of people Trump labels as Marxists, has become the anti-Lincoln, using extraordinary measures to destroy the Union and exacerbate a civil war.

Interestingly, the Clements film features Lincoln as an historical figure whose Emancipation Proclamation was necessary to secure America's future as a free nation. In the discussion period after the film, Clements noted that this executive action was followed by a Day of National Humiliation, Fasting, and Prayer that included repentance. He said similar action is needed in these times for America.

Miracles can happen.

He told a personal story about a pastor who escaped Romania under communism and said the system came crashing down when suddenly there was a growing realization among the population in general that it was all corrupt and they had to act. This was cited as an example of how God can impact events when the people pray for Divine intervention.

Clements, who now travels around the country warning people about the Marxist menace in America, also noted that Pastor Richard Wurbrand had suffered in a Romanian prison at the hands of the communists and worked to undermine the regime, eventually founding the group Voice of the Martyrs. He also wrote a book on the Satanic influence behind Karl Marx, the father of communism.

At this point in time, Dr. Clements says, the fight must be concentrated at the local level, with citizens confronting officials at meetings about election integrity and security and by arguing for paper ballots and demanding that electronic voting machines be banned. He said people should exercise their right to speak and demand accountability.

Grass roots action is happening in Maryland, as citizen volunteers led by Kate Sullivan and David Morsberger wrote a detailed report finding 79,000 inaccuracies and ineligible voter records in the state's voter rolls. A report released by the Office of Legislative Audits of the State General Assembly confirmed a failure by the State Board of Elections "to identify and purge the deceased from voter rolls as well as a time lag in reporting people who allegedly voted more than once," one report noted.

A group called United Sovereign Americans has highlighted through a lawsuit and news releases detailed documentation about election irregularities, improper certification of voting machines and noncompliance with the Public Information Act (PIA) by the authorities.

Locally, activists find their voice through the Jen Charlton show, carried on radio station WFMD. She, too, appeared at the screening of the Clements film.

The Democratic Party-controlled state government responded with a bill to outlaw dissemination of "misinformation" that could cause personal embarrassment to members of the State Board of Elections.

A note from America's Survival President Cliff Kincaid:

Communists openly operate in open violation of the Communist Control Act, a law still on the books but not enforced. Congress abolished internal security panels while Big Tech platforms like YouTube terminated my account and our 500 anti-communist videos. Government control of mass communications has been largely accomplished, as the "Twitter Files" and Big Media bias demonstrate, while consolidation of the banking sector is happening before our eyes, as the economy slides into more spending, inflation, and debt. In this context, in our opinion, we desperately need an alternative form of money that people can use for their own needs, bypassing the federal tax system. Serious analysts endorse the concept of decentralized cryptocurrencies, over which the federal government has no control. By contrast, Biden favors a centrally controlled digital currency through the Federal Reserve and his Securities and Exchange Commission has engineered a crackdown on the crypto sector.
