

The United Nations Wants to Jail President Donald J. Trump

Former Reagan Attorney General Ed Meese submitted a friend-of-the-court brief on December 20 to the Supreme Court explaining that “Special Counsel” Jack Smith’s appointment was illegal and unconstitutional. “Essentially,” reported Breitbart news, “U.S. Attorney General Merrick Garland improperly appointed Smith to an office that does not exist with authority Garland does not possess.”

United Nations-trained lawyer Jack Smith (left) was photographed wearing the global garb of an international court. (Source: Specialist Prosecutor’s Office). His prosecutions of Trump are laying the groundwork for a U.N campaign to jail the former president in a prison cell near The Hague, Netherlands. Trump, in a booking photo, is also being persecuted by Fulton County GA District Attorney Fani Willis.

How is it possible, then, that the appointment was made in the first place?

In straightforward common-sense language, Steven G. Calabresi, a constitutional lawyer working with Meese, analyzed the statutes at issue and argues that Jack Smith is a private citizen and that he was given “all of the power of a U.S. Attorney, and also nationwide jurisdiction,” but was never confirmed to that post as required by law.

This means that the Supreme Court has no alternative but to rule that Smith’s appointment was illegal and unconstitutional.

It’s a fact that when Attorney General Merrick Garland announced the appointment of Smith, he described him as a “former” career Justice Department prosecutor and “former” chief prosecutor for a global tribunal. To be “Special Counsel,” Garland said Smith had “resigned as the chief prosecutor for the special court in The Hague charged with investigating and adjudicating war crimes in Kosovo.” But there is more. “From 2008 to 2010,” Garland declared, “he [Smith] served with the International Criminal Court [ICC], where he supervised war crimes investigations.”

But Smith is far more than just a private citizen. He is a globalist lawyer working for international agencies and institutions who has been selected to use extra-legal tactics against a former American president, to keep him off the ballot in 2024 and then jail him on United Nations charges of “contempt” for the New World Order.

America’s Survival, Inc.

Cliff Kincaid, President.

www.usasurvival.org

The ICC “Detention Center” is located within a Dutch prison complex in Scheveningen on the outskirts of The Hague, a city in The Netherlands. This is where Trump could be jailed (see page eight of this report for a photograph of a cell at the United Nations Detention Unit in The Hague).

While the Supreme Court must rule on Smith’s status under U.S. law, Congress must consider the fact that the United States never ratified the International Criminal Court treaty. In effect, Smith switched his allegiance from the United States to a system of international courts.

Kurt Waldheim, a Nazi Lieutenant in World War II who facilitated Nazi war crimes in the Balkans, was a U.N. Secretary-General. His portrait hangs in the U.N. building.

Smith was photographed in his global garb, wearing black and purple robes, contemplating crimes such as genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. He in fact swore allegiance to a global court and became, for all intents and purposes, a foreign agent.

In my 1995 book, Global Bondage: The U.N. Plan to Rule the World, I went into detail about U.N. plans for an International Criminal Court that could prosecute American citizens. Jack Smith represents the latest aspect of this campaign, which is unfolding as I predicted. Once they “convict” Trump on dubious grounds in the United States, they will try to put him on trial internationally and send him to The Hague. That is the agenda for a second Biden term.

One of Smith’s indictments against Trump is over the events of January 6, when some demonstrators entered the Capitol. Smith blames Trump for that.

But Trump had urged protesters to assemble peacefully and patriotically.

Utilizing U.N.-tyle tactics, Smith has asked U.S. District Judge Tanya Chutkan, an Obama appointee, to prohibit Trump from arguing that he is being selectively prosecuted and that then-Speaker Rep, Nancy Pelosi and others allowed the January 6 security failures to occur, so Trump could be blamed and then prosecuted. There was also FBI knowledge in advance of what happened on Capitol Hill on January 6.

The plan was to provoke violence to justify a crackdown that gives more power to intelligence and law enforcement agencies to go after Trump and his supporters.

In his brief on behalf of Trump, Meese cites statutes determining that Smith had to be nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate for the office of Special Counsel, which he now holds, in the same way that U.S. Attorneys are nominated and confirmed for their offices. Smith was not. Hence, Smith's position is "blatantly unconstitutional."

In the brief, Meese refers to various statutes -- 28 U.S.C. 509, 510, 515, and 533 -- which were cited by Garland and notes, "none of those statutes [cited by Garland to justify Smith's appointment], nor any other statutory or constitutional provisions, remotely authorized the appointment by the Attorney General of a private citizen to receive extraordinary criminal law enforcement power under the title of Special Counsel."

But Smith is not just any private citizen. He worked for the International Criminal Court (ICC) of the United Nations as well as the global so-called Kosovo Tribunal, a project of the European Union.

This makes him a foreign agent and his appointment is not in conformity with American law and the American constitution.

Some argue that the ICC is not a United Nations entity. But the International Criminal Court asked for and received membership in the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Fund, meaning that its officials and lawyers would get paid under U.N. auspices. The Court was established by what is called the Rome Statute but the treaty was negotiated "within" the U.N. and under its authority.

All of this means that American taxpayers who pay for the United Nations were forced to provide funds illegally to Jack Smith and his team of U.N.-trained lawyers.

When Jack Smith became a "Specialist Prosecutor" for the Kosovo Tribunal, a project of the European Union, he "signed a solemn declaration that he would exercise his functions independently, impartially and conscientiously.” This sounds impressive but it is not in conformity with American law and the American tradition of due process.

This is the International Criminal Court at The Hague. (Photo published under the Creative Commons Attribution-Share Alike 4.0.)

Meese and the attorneys acknowledge there is a legal basis for the “creation and appointment of special assistants or special counsels who merely assist U.S. Attorneys when the public interest so requires.” But there is no statutory basis for a Special Counsel of the kind personified by Jack Smith, with the powers of a U.S. attorney and national jurisdiction.

They add, “He [Smith] was hired as a powerful standalone officer who replaces rather than assists the functions of United States Attorneys within the scope of his jurisdiction. This is precisely the role that the Ethics in Government Act authorized for independent counsels. But that statute no longer exists, and in the absence of that statute or a similar one, there is simply no statutory office of Special Counsel to which Smith could be appointed to function as a stand-in for a U.S. Attorney.”

They explain that federal statutes and the Constitution do not allow the Attorney General “to appoint a private citizen, who has never been confirmed by the Senate, as a substitute United States Attorney under the title ‘Special Counsel.’ That is what happened on November 18, 2022. That appointment was unlawful, as are all the legal actions that have flowed from it, including citizen Smith’s current attempt to obtain a ruling from this Court.”

Smith began his career under Barack Hussein Obama’s Attorney General Eric Holder, leading the Department of Justice “Public Integrity Section,” but had a controversial record of “overzealous investigations and prosecutions.” Trump calls him the “deranged and vengeful Biden-appointed prosecutor” who “obtained a search warrant to secretly gain access to my Twitter account and my private data.” Rep. Andrew Clyde notes that Katy Chevigny, wife of Jack Smith, donated to Joe Biden’s campaign and produced Michelle Obama’s documentary.

Donald J. Trump

@realDonaldTrump · 1d

TRUTH.

Biden’s Flunky, Deranged Jack Smith, should go to HELL. He is helping his Corrupt and Incompetent President to destroy America through Weaponization and ELECTION INTERFERENCE! Smith is a Crooked Prosecutor who shouldn’t even be allowed to be in the position he is in—It is Prosecutorial Misconduct.

The Great Ed Meese from the Ronald Reagan Era has him figured perfectly!

breitbart.com/politics/2023/12...

Smith’s petition for a writ of certiorari (review) to accelerate his prosecution of former President Trump was denied by the Supreme Court on December 22, meaning that Smith was not allowed to bypass other courts in rushing to put Trump behind bars.

However, the Court did not address or rule on the unlawful nature of Smith's appointment.

Back in 1998, Cliff Kincaid was joined by Howard Phillips, chairman of the Conservative Caucus in opposition to the ICC. They made several important points:

- Approval of the International Criminal Court by the President and Senate would be in fundamental conflict with their Constitutional oaths. (Hence, it has never been ratified).
- The Constitution of the United States makes clear that "All legislative Powers shall be vested in a Congress of the United States." Powers which are vested cannot be transferred. (In other words, private citizens working for international agencies cannot be given the legal powers of the United States).
- Article III of the U.S. Constitution stipulates in Section 1 that "The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish." (The Kosovo Tribunal and the ICC are not sponsored or endorsed by the United States).
- The U.N.'s International Criminal Court is not under the Constitution of the United States, as is the U.S. Supreme Court and the various inferior courts, and was not structured to be subordinate to our Congress. (This is another reason the ICC treaty has not been ratified).

This means that so-called "citizen Smith" is a global citizen. His legal antics -- and those of his boss Merrick Garland -- must be rejected as illegal and unconstitutional by the Supreme Court and Congress.

The idea that a U.N. entity can prosecute "war crimes" is laughable. In a January 19, 1997 article in the Washinton Post, Cliff Kincaid noted that former U.N Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim was exposed as a Nazi collaborator and barred from the United States and yet continued to get a United Nations pension. The U.N. pension fund is now worth $84.4 billion!

Responding to public concern about the United Nations, on June 11, 2020 President Donald J. Trump issued Executive Order 13928, declaring as "illegitimate" the proclaimed "jurisdiction" of the ICC over personnel of the United States. But on April 2, 2021, the Biden administration revoked the Executive Order.

In effect, Trump was imposing sanctions in the form of visa/travel restrictions and asset freezes targeting International Criminal Court officials as well as other persons that contribute to the Court's illegal investigations against the United States and its allies.

But with Biden now on the side of the ICC, one left-wing organization said that Trump, as a former or future president, could be prosecuted for "contempt" for international law before the ICC. That threat is in addition to Jack Smith's campaign of persecution against Trump.

That organization, which calls itself "Just Security," had two interesting people on its advisory board: Avril Haines, who served as Principal Deputy National Security Advisor to President Obama and is now Biden's Director of National Intelligence, and Jake Sullivan, who served in the Obama administration as national security adviser to Vice President Joe Biden and Director of Policy Planning at the U.S. Department of State, as well as deputy chief of staff to Secretary of State Hillary Clinton. He is now Biden's national security advisor.

Not surprisingly, the organization is supported by the Soros-funded Open Society Foundations.

The ICC treaty was NOT ratified, but Biden went ahead anyway, appointing Beth Van Schaack as the Ambassador-at-Large for Global Criminal Justice, launching what she called "a sorely needed reset of the U.S. relationship with the ICC," and saying the U.S. Government will "continue rebuilding the U.S.-ICC relationship and put it on a more durable path..."

Her bio also includes work for the Office of the Prosecutor of the International Criminal Tribunals for Rwanda and the Former Yugoslavia in The Hague.

It turns out that she also served as Executive Editor for Just Security, the same organization pushing a charge of "contempt" against Trump on a global basis.

As the "lawfare" against Trump proceeds, we can anticipate an International Criminal Tribunal targeting the United States, focusing on President Trump or any Republican president. One charge could be "contempt" of international law over the ICC, followed by charges of "racial terrorism" or "environmental crimes" against America itself.

America's Survival, Inc. President Cliff Kincaid discussed the International Criminal Court during a C-SPAN appearance on June 16, 1998. He wrote two books on the un-American activities of the U.N.

Verdicts at the international level could amount to tens of trillions of dollars.

But in another significant development that spells trouble for Jack Smith, John Moynihan filed a whistleblower complaint (see excerpt below) with the Department of Justice Inspector General's Office on November 28 alleging that Smith was engaged in an extortion scheme while he was working at the U.N.-backed Kosovo tribunal.

The declarations name Mr. Jack Smith, Esquire ("Smith") as an active participant in a scheme that extorted millions of dollars from wealthy individuals targeted for investigation and/or prosecution by the Kosovo Specialist Prosecutor's Office ("SPO"). Smith served as the Specialist Prosecutor from May 7, 2018, to November 18, 2022, at which time he was appointed by U.S. Attorney General Merrick B. Garland to serve as the Special Counsel to investigate former President Trump pursuant to Order No. 5559-2022.

Moynihan is a former employee of the Drug Enforcement Administration who tracks and exposes international money laundering and associated financial crimes. The complaint was filed on Moynihan's behalf by Brian Della Rocca, a Partner at Compass Law Partners, who told us "I will confirm that it [the complaint] is authentic," but that "We have no other comment at this time."

Defunding the office of Special Counsel Jack Smith is one way for the House Republicans to stop these schemes and begin to expose alleged corruption by Smith's office.

Rep. Andy Ogles (R-TN) has filed legislation to defund Jack Smith. The "YOU'RE FIRED Act," H.R.5194, would stop "Jack Smith's taxpayer-funded witch hunt of President Trump," Rep. Ogles says. H.R. 4707, introduced by Rep. Matt Gaetz (R-FL), would prohibit federal funding for Special Counsel Smith's office.

To their credit, House Republican congressional committees are examining the China threat and the "weaponization" of government and have launched an impeachment inquiry into Joe Biden and his administration. They also need to launch a panel to monitor and expose communist groups active on American soil. America's Survival, Inc. is currently working with Congress to re-establish Congressional committees or subcommittees to investigate internal security issues.

UNITED NATIONS
International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals

A cell at the United Nations Detention Unit in The Hague. This is where the United Nations could jail former President Trump on charges of “contempt” for the New World Order. Source: The International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals.

We need your support to educate the American people and Congress about the illegal and unconstitutional activities of “Special Counsel” Jack Smith. Donations are tax-deductible. Please make checks payable to:

America's Survival, Inc.
P.O. Box 1167
Emmitsburg, Maryland. 21727

Or go to the “Give” section on our website, www.usasurvival.org, and use our secure payment option.